

Terms of Use and Privacy Policy

Introduction

This website makes a number of medical calculators available to the public. The calculators use information submitted by the user to infer outcomes based upon scientific research. This includes research models and algorithms developed by the Precision Driven Health (PDH) Research Partnership (http:// www.precisiondrivenhealth.com/).

Before using any of the calculators available on this website you must read and accept the Terms of Use and Privacy Policy below. The Terms of Use and Privacy Policy apply to all website users (who may be referred to as “website users” or “you”). References to “Orion Health”, “we” or “us” are to Orion Health Group Limited and its group of subsidiaries.

If you have any questions or comments about the Terms of Use or Privacy Policy you can contact Orion Health here.

Terms of Use

Plain English Explanation:

The calculators available on this website are not intended to be used as a substitute for medical advice. They provide predictive outcomes which may not be accurate. All outcomes should be checked by a medical professional before being used as a basis for medical treatment or diagnosis.

The calculators available in the ‘Clinical’ section of the website are only intended to be used by medical professionals who are located in New Zealand.

Full Terms and Conditions:

You acknowledge that Orion Health is not engaged in the practice of medicine and that the calculators made available via this website are an information tool only, and not a substitute for competent medical advice. You acknowledge that Orion Health is not responsible for the availability of any external sites or resources made available via the website, nor does it endorse the accuracy or reliability of their content.

The “Clinical” section of this website makes available a number of calculators that are intended for use by trained medical professionals only. Non-medical professionals who use these calculators do so at their own risk. Individuals with any type of medical condition should seek professional medical advice before beginning any sort of health treatment. For medical concerns, including decisions about medications and other treatments, non-medical users should always consult their physician or other qualified medical professional. The calculators are intended to be used by medical professionals located in New Zealand only, as they derive from research performed on data sets relating to the New Zealand population.

If you are a medical professional using the calculators to assist with medical decision-making, it is entirely your responsibility to ensure that you fulfil your legal responsibilities in relation to the same, including providing notice to the individual about the use of the calculators and how it may impact their medical treatment. It is entirely your responsibility to verify the accuracy of the outcome generated by the calculators using your own professional judgment (including before entering it into a patient’s clinical records) and to ensure an appropriate level of privacy is applied to the outcomes generated by the calculators in relation to that individual.

The website, the calculators and all content accessible via the website and the calculators are provided on an “as is” and “as available” basis. To the fullest extent allowed by law, Orion Health expressly disclaims all warranties of any kind, whether express or implied, including, but not limited to the implied warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose and non-infringement. Orion Health makes no warranty that: (i) the website or the calculators will be uninterrupted, secure, error-free, free from defects, (ii) any content accessible will be timely, complete, accurate, reliable or error-free, (iii) your information will be protected against loss, misuse, interruption or alteration by third parties, or (iv) the calculators meet your expectations or requirements. You agree that your access to and use of the website and the calculators is at your own risk, and that you are solely responsible for any liability or damage that you may incur through use of the website or the calculators.

You agree that Orion Health shall not be liable to you for any direct, indirect, incidental, special, consequential, exemplary or other damages that arise from your use of the website or the calculators, including, but not limited to, damages for injury, illness, disability, loss of use, data or other intangible losses (even if they have been advised of the possibility of such damages). Orion Health reserves the right at any time and from time to time to modify or discontinue the website (or any part thereof) and you agree that Orion Health shall not be liable to you for this.

These Terms of Use may be updated from time to time so you may wish to check them each time you use this website. The date of the most recent revisions will appear on this page. If you do not agree to these changes, please do not continue to use this website.

Privacy Policy

Purpose

This Privacy Policy applies to the treatment of information provided to Orion Health when website users visit the site and use the medical calculators. By accepting the terms of this Privacy Policy and using this website, you are consenting to the way we use your information in the manner described in this Privacy Policy.

What information does Orion Health collect?

Medical information

Orion Health collects medical information submitted by website users for calculation purposes. Website users are not required to create a personal login to use the calculators or otherwise submit personally identifiable information. Accordingly, the information submitted by users is not identifiable to the website user who submitted it, or to any other individuals to whom the medical information relates.

User activity data

Orion Health uses Google Analytics to track website user activity, including for example the webpages visited, the links clicked and the page view count. Your web browser automatically sends this information to Google. Google may also set cookies on your browser or read cookies that are already there. You can turn off Google Analytics tracking by installing the Opt-Out Browser Add-on here.

Other than your IP address, no information identifiable to you is available to Google or Orion Health. Your IP address is a number that can be used to uniquely identify your specific computer or other network device on the internet and can be used to find out information about your general location.

How will Orion Health use the information it collects about me?

When you visit this website and use any of the calculators available to you, the medical information entered into the calculators is processed by software installed in the Amazon Web Services (AWS) cloud, hosted from a datacenter managed by AWS in Sydney, Australia. The software is programmed to use the information you enter to predict outcomes based upon scientific research. You can read about the scientific research behind the outcomes by clicking on the 'references' link beside the outcome displayed by the calculator.

Orion Health uses the information it tracks via Google Analytics to understand how and from where the website is being used and to improve it. You can read about how Google uses this information (and find the Opt-Out Browser) here.

How we protect your information

To prevent unauthorized use, maintain data accuracy, and ensure the appropriate use of information, we have put in place appropriate physical, electronic, and administrative procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect. The operation of the software is fully automated so as to not require human intervention.

How long will Orion Health keep my information?

Neither the medical information entered into the calculators nor the outcome inferred by the software is stored by Orion Health following the calculation, except to the extent such information is captured in audit logs. Audit logs provide a record of the calculations made using the calculators and will be securely maintained for a reasonable period of time following the relevant calculation. Audit logs are not identifiable to website users.

Your Rights

You have the right to ask us to stop using your personal information at any time. You have the right to correct or have erased any of your personal information we hold. If you wish to exercise any of these rights, please contact us using the link provided above.

Changes to our Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy may be updated from time to time so you may wish to check it each time you use this website. The date of the most recent revisions will appear on this page. If you do not agree to these changes, please do not continue to use this website.
